

Alejandra Medina

Alejandra Medina (PhD) is a Financial Economist in the Capital Markets and Financial Institutions Division of the OECD Directorate for Financial and Enterprise Affairs. She leads the work on capital markets and has advised Italy, Portugal, Croatia and Romania on how to make capital markets better serve the real economy. She is also responsible for the strategic design and implementation of the division's programmes on corporate governance to enhance relations with partner countries in Asia. She conducts work on capital markets and corporate governance issues, including corporate access to finance, institutional investors, ownership structure and market structures. She has published extensively on the ownership structure of listed companies around the world, and the functioning of capital markets and the conditions for companies' access to market-based finance. Referenced reports and related material can be found at OECD capital markets.

Prior to joining the OECD, Dr. Medina taught Corporate Finance at the University of British Columbia in Canada. She served previously as member of the capital markets advisory team at the Chilean Ministry of Finance, and worked as a financial analyst and corporate bond trader at Provida, a Chilean pension fund manager.

She holds a Ph.D. in Finance from the University of British Columbia (Canada), a M.Phil. in Financial Economics and a B.A. in Business Economics from the Pontificia Universidad Católica (Chile).
